November 2008

Nov 2nd	Sunday 10.00am
	Forest of Bowland: A spooky circuit of Pendle Hill
	It's Halloween and witches are abroad. The sky darkens and an unnatural mist descends over the summit of Pendle Hill. Three wizened crones appear out of the gloom, cackling and chanting (in sub-Macbethian, and slightly twee, prose)...
	Wing of bat and eye of newt; tail of rat and walker's boot. Drop of blood from blistered toe; in the pot a gaiter throw. Ramblers lured into our trap; by charmed compass and OS map. Double, double, toil and trouble; fire burn, and cauldron bubble.
	Pendle Hill has been infamous for its connection with witchcraft since the 17th century witch trials. Now a new coven has appeared and is spreading evil across the countryside! Are you brave enough to volunteer to stop them??? We'll have to creep up on them from the back of Pendle Hill (with a bit of right-to-roaming, in case their familiars are watching the footpaths), catch them performing their nefarious deeds on the summit ridge, and then finally make the short-but-steep descent down to victory celebrations in the pub in Barley.
	Start Point:	Car park in Barley Green, GR SD 823 403
Distance:	8 Miles	Level:	Moderate
Leader:	Witchfinder General: Charles	Tel:	Email Charles 07960 109 067 / 0161 973 4799

Nov 16 th	Sunday 10.00am (sharp!)
	Peak District: Kinder Scout, Northern Edge
	Fed up with Edale? Think Kinder downfall and Jacob's Ladder are the equivalent of the M6, having to overtake hundreds of overladen teenagers doing the Duke of Edinburgh's? Then come to the wild, unexplored, northern edge of Kinder Scout. Visit Ashop Clough, The edge, Seal Edge and Blacken Moor, before warming up again in the Snake Inn.
